Father, Captain Charles Emory Thompson, associated with J E Bishop & Company, oyster-dealers in New Haven, son of George Edwin and Sophia (Strickland) Thompson of New Haven. Mother, Alice (Bishop) Thompson; daughter of James Edwin and Huldah Elizabeth (Turner) Bishop of New Haven. Yale relatives include two cousins, George E. Thompson, '95 S., p. 178, and Paul Thompson, '01 New Haven High School; attended Yale School of the Fine Arts 1886–92 (certificate 1889, B.F.A. 1898); studied in New York City under John La Farge and in France under Merson, Blanc, Courtois, and Girardet 1893–97; assistant in painting Yale School of the Fine Arts 1900–05, instructor 1905–10; director Norwich (Conn) Art School 1910–12; established a studio in Mystic where he engaged in painting and teaching 1912–38; supervisor of art Groton (Conn) public schools 1921–30; co-founder in 1900 with John I H Downes (B.F.A. 1898) of the New Haven Paint and Clay Club (president of the executive committee 1900, president 1901–02, member committee on selection 1902–20, and committee on hanging 1902–20 and 1924); his work had been exhibited at the National Academy, New York, Art Institute of Chicago, Morgan Memorial, Hartford, Corcoran Gallery, Washington, Pennsylvania Academy, and New Haven Paint and Clay Club (awarded members' prize 1924), received Cooper Prize, Connecticut Academy of Fine Arts, 1928, co-founder in 1914 of the Mystic Art Association (president 1924–30); member Grand Avenue Congregational Church, New Haven. Mr Thompson as a landscape painter was first influenced by the French impressionists and used pure, prismatic color, he enjoyed broad and luminous tonalities, and his early nocturnes were often Whistleresque, he later developed a bolder use of pattern and a warmer sense of light, painting with a robust palette and a scant respect for academic restrictions; he has left some excellent portraits and one of the finest is that of John I H. Downes, a lifelong friend; his best portraits have a sympathy which lifts them above mere technical showmanship, his work was decidedly objective and he faced each problem on its merits, without undue introspection; his painting "Nocturne, the Quinnipiac" hangs in the National Gallery, Montevideo, Uruguay, and another, the "Village Church," has been purchased by the New Haven Paint and Clay Club for its permanent collection.

FORMS OF BEQUEST

BECAUSE of the constantly increasing tendency on the part of alumni and other friends to provide for the growing needs of the University by bequests, and the many inquiries received each year as to the proper wording thereof, there are given below forms for the convenience of those who plan to remember Yale in their wills.

(GENERAL)

I give and bequeath to Yale University, a corporation existing under and by virtue of a charter granted by the General Assembly of the Colony and State of Connecticut, and located in the Town of New Haven in said State, \[\ldots\] Dollars, to be used (or, the income to be used) at the discretion of the Corporation of said University.

(SPECIFIC)

I give and bequeath to Yale University, a corporation existing under and by virtue of a charter granted by the General Assembly of the Colony and State of Connecticut, and located in the Town of New Haven in said State, \[\ldots\] Dollars, to be used (or, the income to be used) for the following purposes:

(Here specify the purposes for which the bequest—or the income therefrom—is to be used.)

\[\ldots\]

(It is strongly recommended that a competent lawyer be employed to prepare the will and to supervise its execution in order that all the requirements of the law of the state in which the maker of the will resides may be fully complied with. It is also wise to give the University considerable latitude in the use of any fund to be established by bequest, or of the income therefrom, so that a change of circumstances may not impair the usefulness of the gift. The Treasurer of the University will be glad upon request to review the phraseology of proposed bequests and to make suggestions with reference thereto.)
